Members of School Board Discuss Head of Juvenile Court.

"HARROWS UP" CITIZENS

NEWMAN AND MOYLE EXPRESS STRONG OPINIONS.

Citizens of Salt Lake have been "harrowed up" by Judge Willis Brown of the Juvenile court, according to a statement by W. J. Newman on the floor of the board of education last night. Mr. Newman's remark was incidental to the process of relieving his feeling with relation to Judge Brown and followed some remarks in the same general vein from O. W. Moyle, president of the board, who left the chair for the pur-

Judge Brown came up for discussion in connection with a recommendation of the committee on teachers and school work that the board supply desks and other school equipment for a school room in the Morris detention home. Newman opened the fight on the recommendation by saying he objected to the board supplying material to a school about which the board would have no "say so." Cummings and Henderson defended the recommendation, contending that the board should take as much interest in the education of the "bad" boys and girls of the city as of the good ones.

Newman on Criminals.

'Is it right for the school board to take care of the criminal classes." de-manded Newman, "It is the duty of Salt Lake City to care for them, and it the city wants them taught, it is the city's business to provide the means of teaching them," he said.

Henderson questioned the propriety of designating the inmates of the home

"I don't know about that," put in Moyle, who had not yet left the chair, I was at the school yesterday and then the class was asked how many of them had ever stolen, every band

Henderson then moved to defer action until all the members of the board could be present. Messrs. Edwards, Thomas and Oberndorfer were absent Giauque seconded the motion to defer but it was lost. Moyle had turned the chair over to Martin in the meantime. Speaking to the motion to defer, he

Threat to "Advertise."

"I think there is an emergency ele ment in this affair. Judge Brown has been calling up members of the board at all hours of the night, threatening to advertise them in the papers if they didn't take action soon. This school will be entirely under the control of Judge Brown and not of the school board. What do we know about Judge Brown's qualifications? I doubt whether he has very great qualifications from what I know of him. If the city wants a detention home, let it maintain it. I have nothing against the detention home and nothing against Judge Brown, but we did not appoint him and we have no claim on him

Parents in "Child's Court."

Newman objected to the clause in the recommendation providing that the city supply school desks and "other necessary school supplies." That might include feather beds, in the case of the Morris home, he said, because the children slept there. "Further, I am

These children need our care more than any other class on The man who lives on Brigham street can send his children away to school, but these poor children have parents who are not able or not inclined to educate. The state does not contemplate that these children shall grow up without education.

Mr. Newman explained that he did not dislike Judge Brown, whom he pro-nounced an "amiable man," but said he did not like some of Judge Brown's The resolution was defeated by the following vote: Ayes—Cummings, Henderson—2. Another recommendation from the same committee, that the board loan school books to the Y. M. C. A. night school, was defeated also. Newman spoke against it, saying he did not oppose the proposition per se, but feared it would establish a bad precedent that would lead to other schools outside the jurisdiction of the board applying for books. Martin, Cheesman, Newman and Moyle voted against the recommendation, while Cummings, Glauque and Henderson voted for it.

The attaches in some cases offered written information for the guidance of the public. Probably the most refreshing of these placards was that affixed to the door of the county commissioners' office by the pauper clerk, James Sabine, jr. It read;

"Power is off" was the guileful statement that appeared on the grating of the building elevator. The few persons who called and toiled up the stairs did not believe the allegation. Some visitor, in the interest of truth and the eternal fitness of things, printed the word "Operator" in large letters on a sheat of paper and pasted the paper over the word "Power," thus, making the sign announce "Operator is off."

Mr. Longley had just given his name to the judges when he fell to the floor without warning. The judges and checkers hastened to his aid and he revived soon. After emerging from the booth with his ballot Mr. Longley was still so faint that it was necessary to support him while he deposited the ballot in the box. The checkers list indicates that Mr. Longley is a member of the American party.

and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grains.

Dr. Julius Remmson, on this subject, says: "Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food, in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced. If a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use.

form of indigestion will be overcome by their use.

That larre class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspepties should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmiess digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, truit acids and salts, which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines, masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures, are useless for indigestion, as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food, and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principle.

WITTE PLEDGES SUPPORT.

Constituent Assembly Will Be Called if Demanded.

St. Petersburg. Nov. 7.—Count Witte has definitely pledged himself to sup-port the plan for the convocation of a constituent assembly when the douma meets, if a single representative raises the question. He is exceedingly anxious to win the support of the zemst-voists who, he does not hesitate to deing Professor Kusminkaravieff, who re- ideas, and which he evidently regar as the strongest, safest and most influ ential factor in the future political life of the country. The count has been in almost constant consultation with the leaders of this party, but they have steadily refused their allegiance except on the condition of the convocation of constituent assembly based on universal suffrage.

Must Be Summoned.

Count Witte has as persistently op-posed the demand, insisting that the matter was for the douma itself to de-cide. At the same time he announced his personal bellef that in the end such an assembly must be summoned. Finally, in the course of a long conversation with Ivan Petrunkevitch, a member of the Moscow zemstvo and president of the Moscow Agricultural society, the count said:

society, the count said:

"I give you my word of honor that if when the douma meets one representative demands a constituent assembly I will support him."

Count Witte continues to complain bitterly of the lack of confidence to-lward him by all the elements of the opposition at a time when he stands so much in need of the support of the liberals. He said to M. Petrunkevitch:

much in need of the support of the inserals. He said to M. Petrunkevitch:
"I find myself confronted by a mighty ocean and with only a cockleshell on the shore. You say this boat will carry me across to the other shore, and I enter it because there is no other craft in sight."

The count added that he believed "if The count added that he believed Christ himself were at the head of the government the opposition would make believe in him," and said that at the present juncture the only person whe was seconding his endeavor to intro duce the new regime in eyal spirit was General Trepoff.

Restaurants may be found in the larger cities where no meat, pastry or coffee is served and the food crank is in his glory, and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs, and almost make us believe that our sturdy ancestors who lived four score years in robust health on reast beet, pork and mutton must have been grossly ignorant of the laws of health.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind, from bacon to acorns.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grains.
